

DAMIÁN BASANTE ARBUES

Damian Basante Arbues was born in Buenos Aires in 1985.

He began his drawing studies at the age of 15 with Horacio Lalia and received his degree in Visual Arts in 2009, with specialization in drawing and sculpture. During the course he began to show greater interest in painting and photography - both hobbies during his adolescence - and upon finishing the course he dedicated himself fully to both disciplines, constantly complementing them under mutual influence.

He work as an art teacher since 2010 and recently added digital illustration as a new professional tool.

Currently he alternates his artistic activities between fine art painting, digital illustration and stock photography.
